

Job application pack for Digital Marketing Coordinator

Thank you for your interest in this opportunity. Please read through the pack and email your application to mark.prest@portraitsofrecovery.org.uk

How to Apply:

- 1) A covering letter or statement clearly outlining how you meet the selection criteria in the job description and person specification below.
- 2) A current CV that includes the names and contact details of at least two referees, one of whom should be your current or most recent employer.
- 3) A completed Equality Monitoring Form.

Key Dates:

Closing Date:	Sunday	17 th July 2022 by 5pm
Notified of Interview:	Friday	22 nd July 2022
Planned Interview date TBC:	Friday	29 th July 2022
Planned Start Date:	Week begin	8 th Aug 2022

We are looking for a proactive and dedicated person with a passion for the arts to deliver engaging digital marketing communications work, and who is comfortable working as part of a busy, and creative team.

PORe is committed to promoting equal opportunities and encourages applicants from all sections of the community.

Job Description – Digital Marketing Coordinator

Organisation Overview

Portraits of Recovery (PORe) is a Manchester based visual arts, non-venue-based charity whose work investigates the relational intersectionality of contemporary art, substance use and recovery.

PORe does this through visual arts commissioning and through partnerships in the recovery, health, academic and community sectors, engaging with those in recovery and the wider public.

PORe was founded in 2011 on the resilience of lived experience and ambition by Mark Prest, himself a man in recovery. PORE's vision and purpose is for social and cultural change via contributions to an emergent cultural identity for the UK's recovery community. A parallel is how Queer, Black, LGBT+, Women and disability art movements have taken back control and re-invented themselves through their own cultural production. The central argument made within the co-authored book chapter by Mark Prest and Professor Ali Roy: Roy, A. & Prest, M. (2014). Culture Change: Art, Addiction, and the Recovery Agenda. In: J. Reynolds and Z. Zontou, eds., Addiction and Performance. Cambridge: Cambridge Scholars Publishing.

Internationally unique - eight years of award-winning cultural production has fostered new, culturally competent approaches to recovery and established a new Northwest England arts and social movement. Under the proactive slogan RECOVERISM, as allied to the arts it supports the emancipatory reframing of addiction and recovery identities.

Recoverism looks at recovering people and their communities as social assets with newly collective, responsible ways of living, free from substance or self-harming and defeating behaviours.

Activism as art for social and cultural change seeks to introduce increased access to, and participation in, high quality arts. Embedding Recoverism and Recoverist ideology within wider society and the mainstream arts and culture.

PORe has been awarded funding from Arts Council England's Elevate program to undertake two years organisational development (completing 31 March 2023). This post is part of a team created to support the Director in the delivery of K.I.S.S (keep it simple stupid), PORE's ambitious new development strategy.

Job Summary

Reporting directly to Director Mark Prest and working as part of a new, small multidisciplinary team, the Digital marketing Coordinator (DMC) will play a key role in supporting the organisations strategic digital development and objectives for K.I.S.S. Crucial to the success of PORE and supporting all members of the team. The DMC will use their marketing, PR and digital communications skills and experience to help raise the profile of PORE, promote our programmes and activities, and to both sustain and develop our audiences.

We are looking for someone who enjoys challenges, and with plenty of ideas they can bring to the table. A resourceful self-starter who understands art, culture, and the creative industries. Someone adept at digital marketing, content creation and website management, as well as broader marketing and communications.

Job Structure

Hours per week:	Freelance (1 day a week)
Contractual Fee:	£5600 (equivalent to £800 per month & paid monthly)
Contract Duration:	Self-Employed Fixed Term Contract until end March 2023.
Reporting Line:	Reporting to the Director

Please note will be both office and home based by mutual agreement

Core Duties

The core duty of the DMC is to support the Director in the development and delivery of new organisational digital and marketing strategies for PORe programmes and our Elevate project K.I.S.S. This role is critical to delivering a fully commissioned website, develop a CRM GDPR compliant public relations media database, update/maintain, and increase current audience database, and through regular posting's both streamline/increase PORe's online presence across a range of social media messaging platforms.

Key Responsibilities to Include:

- Support the Director in the delivery of K.I.S.S and PORe's Strategic Digital Development and make contributions to the development of a 5-year business plan
- For business planning development purposes contribute to PORe's digital communications and marketing planning aims and objectives, working collaboratively with the Director, colleagues, and current arts consultancy
- Develop strategies for marketing and promotion of PORe and our public facing programme, working collaboratively with the Director and colleagues
- Be the 'brand guardian' for PORe across all platforms ensuring consistency and quality, supporting colleagues' to do the same, working collaboratively with the Director and colleagues
- Lead, work towards fully commissioning PORe's website working collaboratively with the Director and colleagues
- Lead, produce, publish, and distribute content for PORe's communications and marketing channels, digital and non-digital, with reference to PORe's website, online listings, social media, monthly e-newsletters, and listings

- Lead, maintain, develop, and make effective use of PORe's audience databases
- Lead to establish, develop, maintain, and make effective use of a PORe public relations and media database
- Work to GDPR and relevant PORe policy
- Archive and share press documentation

PR and media relations:

- Work proactively to develop regular press and media coverage for PORe
- Nurture and grow press relationships, including with national, regional, and local media, cultural specialist, health specialist and non-specialist press
- Lead the production and dissemination of press and media communications – releases, information, and images. Lead on follow up to generate press and media interest, manage interview requests
- Contribute to funders reporting with reference to press and media data (qualitative and quantitative)

Audience Development:

- Work with the Director, colleagues, and arts consultancy to inform and develop PORe's audience development aims and objectives, making use of tools like Audience Agency's Audience Spectrum
- Work alongside the Director and across PORe's team to maintain audiences as well as develop new audiences
- Lead on PORe data capture, collation, and management (quantitative and qualitative), working with GDPR and relevant PORe policy with contribution from the wider PORe team
- Maximise opportunities for data capture across PORe's activities (including digital), in the process encouraging data base and social media platform sign-ups
- Lead on audience development including audience profiling and analysis, with reference to

Audience Agency's Audience Finder and PORe's funder expectations

General

- This job description is a representative document. Other reasonably similar duties may be allocated from time to time, commensurate with the general character of the post and its grading
- Maintain excellent standards with regards to all role-related financial and contracting activities, including managing budgets.
- All staff have a duty to take care of their own health and safety and that of others who may be affected by your actions at work. Staff must co-operate with employers and co-workers to help everyone meet their legal requirements
- The person appointed will be expected to work flexibly and the exact nature of the duties described above is subject to periodic review and liable to change
- Understand and apply the principles of Equal Opportunities and Creative Diversity.
- Be a strong and effective advocate for PORe and all its activities, including developing and maintaining good internal and external relationships, including from time to time representing the organisation externally
- Liaise effectively with PORe key stakeholders, especially artists and those in recovery

Person Specification – Digital Marketing Officer

Experience

- Experience of website development and management
- Experience of digital marketing techniques, analytics, and track record of delivering creative, story led social media
- Experience and knowledge of data protection

Essentials

- Educated to degree level or equivalent
- Strong literacy skills and overall excellent written and oral communication skills, confidence in communicating with a wide range of people
- Strong copywriting and proofreading skills, and experience in contributing to and coordinating press releases, press and media liaison
- Evidenced track record of developing and maintaining press and media contacts, attracting publicity

- Understanding of, and experience of, delivery of audience development and segmentation
- Computer literate and confident, especially in the use of social media platforms and content creation, marketing platforms such as Mailchimp, standard Microsoft Office applications, and content management systems such as WordPress
- Ability to handle a range of administrative duties and tasks
- Effective communicator in person, on the telephone and in writing, with excellent interpersonal skills, when working with colleagues and key stakeholders
- A motivated, well organised person able to work independently and proactively as part of a team, to achieve high standards and create positive impacts for the organisation
- Willingness to adhere to all organisational policies including but not limited to equal opportunities, health, and safety

Desirable

- A passion for art, culture / contemporary visual arts
- Resourcefulness, a creative approach to working with limited resources
- Knowledge and experience of working with marginalised groups
- Experience of informing and administering budgets
- Knowledge and awareness of relevant legislation such as Health and Safety
- Adobe Creative Suite: InDesign, Photoshop, and Illustrator
- Working knowledge of video editing software